Antares Solo Play Cards Instructions

By Martin Otten

These cards take the place of your opponent to enable you to play BTGoA when you don't have someone to play against. The cards themselves follow these instructions.

Game Setup

Set up the table, terrain, etc just like you would in a normal game.

Preparing the cards

There are two types of card:

- Combat Level Cards(Green), which represent the units from the enemy force organisation selector.
- Order Cards(Orange), which represents the orders given to the enemy units

The cards are used as follows

- 1. Pick your armies to an agreed point's value.
- 2. Select a Combat Level card for each of the units in the enemy force(Tactical, Support etc).
- 3. Select a total of two Order cards for each order dice in the enemy force (I recommend a ratio of 3:2:1 3 Advance, 2 Fire, 1 Run but these are open to adjustment as appropriate).
- 4. Shuffle the Combat Level cards and put them in a pile at the side of the table
- 5. Shuffle the order cards and put them in a pile next to the unit cards

Sequence of play

Each turn, draw an order dice from the bag as normal.

If you draw an enemy order dice then:

- 1. Turn over the top Combat Level Card to see which type of unit is being activated. Choose one of the enemy units at that Combat Level (Tactical, Support, etc).
- 2. If the remaining unit(s) at that Combat Level can only do a specific Order, then give them that order (Probes can only take a Run; units in vehicles that have already Run can only Rally) otherwise turn over the top Order card to see what that unit is going to do.
- 3. If the unit cannot make that Order (for example, off-table units need a Run or Advance), then put the drawn card to the bottom of the order card pile and draw again until they get an order they can perform.
- 4. Make any Order Tests as normal the unit may go Down
- 5. Carry out the Order as instructed by the Order card

Running out of Order Cards

Whilst unlikely, just shuffle the Order cards and start again.

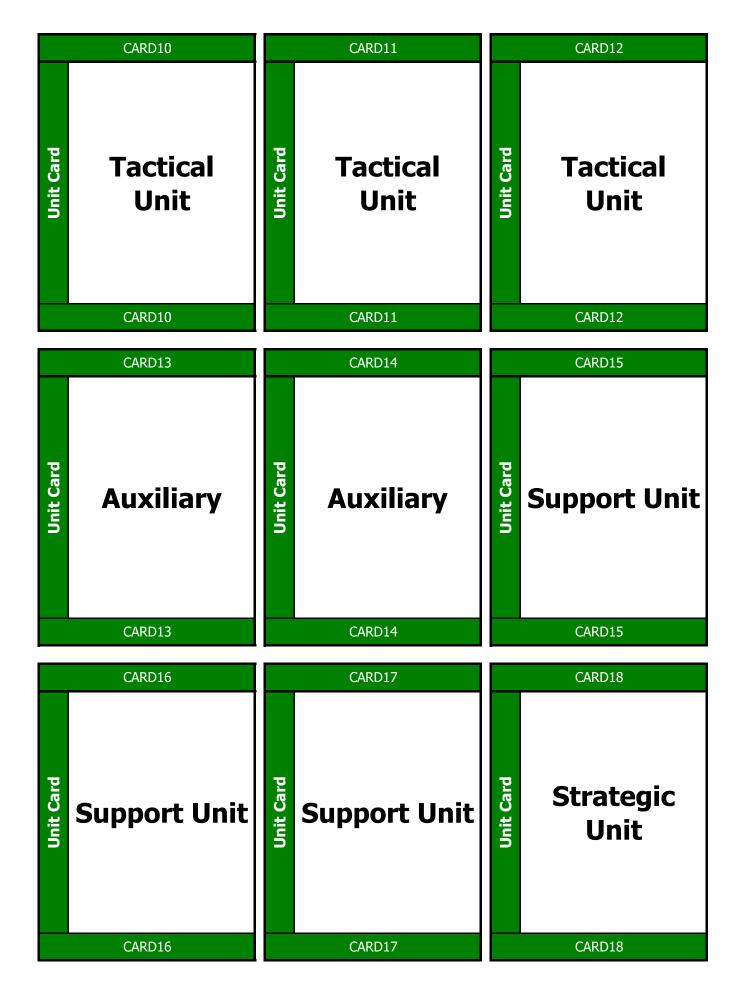

Rallv

If you pick a run order you can if you wish use it to rally or send down any unit within 12" of the activated unit, as long as the unit rallying or going down does not have an order dice already. That unit then gets the order dice: replace the current Combat Level card in the deck and pull out the one matching the Rally-ing unit.

End of Turn

At the end of a turn, make any Recovery tests and replace the Order dice in the dice bag, as normal. Shuffle the Combat Level cards and put them back in a pile at the side of the table then shuffle the Order cards and put them in a pile next to the unit cards.
